

Name Index

Return to Database Home Page

Users' Manual

Browse Texts

Browse Sources

[Browse Authors,
Composers,
Performers](#)

Home

The Colonial
Music
Institute

Name	First Line	Short Title	Page
A., J. (a)	It was a winter's evening, and fast came down the snow (fl)	Vocal Poetry, 1811	58-59
A., J. (a)	Think no more, my gentle maid (fl)	Vocal Poetry, 1811	175
Addison (a)	Last night I sat me down and cried (fl)	Songster's Magazine Vol. II, 1820	15
Addison (a)	Last night I sat me down and cried (fl)	Songster's Magazine-7, 1819	15
Addison, Mrs. (pf)	In vain the broom blooms fresh and gay	Ladies New Memo, 1794	127
Aiken, Miss (a)	Aspasia rolls her sparkling eyes (fl)	Philadelphia Songster, 1805	[131]
Aiken, Miss (a)	Aspasia rolls her sparkling eyes	Columbian, 1797	73
Aikin, Miss (a)	Aspasia rolls her sparkling eyes (fl)	Complete Modern, 1806	143-144
Akenside (a)	Shape alone let others prize, The (fl)	Vocal Poetry, 1811	149-150
Akenside (a)	Shape alone let others prize, A (fl)	Song-Singer's Amusing, 1818	26-27
Alfred Lodge (a)	What solemn sounds on holy Sinai rung	Jachin, 1797	64-65
Alfred Lodge at Oxford, Member (a)	What solemn sounds on holy Sinai rung (fl)	Jachin-1, 1811	91-92
Alfred Lodge at Oxford, Member (a)	Ye spirits pure, that rous'd the tuneful throng (fl)	Jachin-1, 1811	92-93
Alfred Lodge at Oxford, Member (a)	Daughter of God. fair virtue, if to thee (fl)	Jachin-1, 1811	93-94
Alfred Lodge at Oxford, Member (a)	What solemn sounds on holy	Antichristian Antisocial.	70-71